Dear Friends

Firstly, welcome to Val d'Isère!

It is my pleasure to present this brochure designed especially for you. It should prove a practical and indispensable tool in finding your way around our municipality and getting things done.

The guide includes useful information on village life, health, your safety, etc. It also includes such things as basic civic rules, telephone numbers of medical centres, an explanation of the traffic and parking system along with waste recycling, how insurance works, what to do should you lose an identity document, and much more.

In addition to this guide, on the town councils website www.valdisere.fr you will find a great deal of information, useful contact details and local news in English and German.

I hope that these two sources of information will be of use in facilitating matters for you in Val d'Isère. I count on your help to take this forward by sharing any thoughts or comments you may have with me or Jane Griffiths, member of council, and my chosen representative for the English community.

Have a great season!

Kind regards,

Marc Bauer
Mayor of Val d'Isère

RESPECT YOUR NEIGHBOURS WHEN ON PRIVATE PROPERTY

Avoid shouting and keep music at a reasonable volume. Night-time noise is punishable. The fine starts at 68€.

IN PUBLIC AREAS

Be mindful of anti-social behaviour when going out in a group, especially when out drinking.

DRUGS, TOBACCO, ALCOHOL, CANNABIS. DO YOU NEED INFORMATION?

WARNING

Freezing night temperatures in Val d'Isère, means there is a heightened risk of hypothermia. This is considerably increased by the consumption of alcohol and/or drugs.

A FEW REMINDERS AND SOME ADVICE, FOR YOU AND YOUR CLIENTELE

- Advise your clientele to carry a card or wristband with the telephone number of the tour operator representing them and the exact address and telephone number of where they are staying.
- Remember to give them maps of the resort. Your clientele need to be able to find their way around the resort easily.
- Avoid returning home on your own at night. Always "buddy-up"!
- Wear warm clothing. The night temperature can drop to -30°C.
- The use of false proof of identity, or using someone else's identity papers (to get into a club or bar for example) is severely punished under French law.
- Roads, pedestrian routes and car parks may be closed because of the risk of an avalanche. Follow all advice given to the letter.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU LOSE SOMETHING?

- Driving licence: bring your proof of identity, car registration documents and insurance details to the Gendarmerie.
- Passport: advise the Gendarmerie.
- Ski pass: take your proof of payment to the Val d'Isère Téléphérique.
- Lost property is collected at the Municipal Police office reception.

SKI INSURANCE & OFF PISTE

06

ski insurance

DO NOT GO OUT SKIING WITHOUT INSURANCE! IT IS IMPERATIVE TO HAVE SKI INSURANCE!

In France, rescues have to be paid. The costs of a rescue can be high depending on the type of intervention required (off-piste, avalanche), the area and the means deployed (helicopter) to rescue you, which is why you need to take out insurance.

There are several policies available but the ones that provide the best and most comprehensive cover are:

→ The carré neige (on sale at Val d'Isère Téléphérique kiosks for the length of your stay).

→ The carte neige (annual) on sale from the Club des Sports and the Tourist Office, or on the french website: www.ffs.fr.

→ The carte Vie Val d'Is (for Val d'Isère staff) on sale at the Vie Val d'Is association offices, Maison de Val, rue de la Face.

Some credit cards cover the costs of assistance in the case of an accident in the mountains but it is advisable to check exactly what cover they provide (whether you have to pay up front and claim back, whether there is a limit, whether they reimburse your ski pass and ski lessons, whether they cover off-piste, etc).

Any ski accident MUST be declared with the relevant insurance company within 24 hours, to avoid a refusal to cover you.

the preventive attitude

OFF-PISTE

Go out "fully equipped": avalanche transceiver, shovel, probe, helmet, airbag. Go out in an organised group: book a mountain professional/ www.valdisere.com

Space out: ski 1 by 1 on dangerous areas; keep an eye on each other.

PISTE AND OFF-PISTE

Be careful: Don't stop in the middle of the slope, you've skied down.

If you are in doubt, GIVE UP!

BE AWARE OF THE DANGERS FOR YOU

WEATHER

- Most accidents happen in the winter months of December, January and February.
- Large snowfalls and high winds = very serious instability

TERRAIN

- If in doubt, stick to slope angles below 30° above and around you, where avalanches cannot release.
- Don't follow existing tracks. They're no guarantee that a slope is safe, or that there is a safe exit. Cliffs & gulleys = risky terrain.

GROUPS

- Beware: Powder and sun = excitement, reduced perception of risk, difficulty in turning back
- Everyone to carry basic safety equipment (transceiver, shovel and probe), and be trained in how to use it.

AVALANCHE

- Avalanche risk scale = follow the safety advice
- Level 3 and 4 = considerable to high risk.
- Level 5 = very high risk. Don't ski off-piste

signposting

The ski area's slopes are lined with poles, which indicate the slope's difficulty. Beyond the boundary line indicated by these poles, you are OFF-PISTE. Yellow and black striped posts, ropes and nets indicate danger. Failure to respect these signs puts you in danger.

Round signs are placed at regular intervals along the edge of the slopes. These show the name and colour (difficulty) of the slope, as well as number, which tells you where you are on the slope (highest number at the top of the slope).

Give this number to the ski patrol in the event of an accident.

Information boards located in different areas show you opened or closed slopes in real time.

Red light: Slope is closed.

Green light: Slope is opened.

Respect instructions. For your own safety stay on opened marked slopes.

In the event of the foggy weather, slope-user can recognise the right-hand boundary line of the slope by the orange-tipped marker poles.
